Israel Trade Mission

LEO is proud to have been selected as one of the companies that the UKTI selected to participate in their Trade Mission to Israel.

Dan and Mihir are delighted to be part of this important delegation that will build business links between London and one of the world's biggest tech growth centres. Included in the delegation are Boris Johnson, MP and Mayor of London, and the British ambassador to Israel, David Quarrey.

LEO was selected as one of just 16 companies selected for this mission and to be promoted in Israel.

We have been pleased by the warm reception we have received and excited by the potential of the Israel market. Israel is a country that is passionate about entrepreneurship and the LEO Leaders we have met are demonstrating the scale of the major opportunities for LEO in this country.
